PRINCETON REVIEW RANKS WEST POINT IN TOP 10 – Aug. 5, 2014

WEST POINT, N.Y. – A report released yesterday by The Princeton Review ranked West Point, in its “Top 10” in nine categories and “Top 20” in five others, including No. 1 in “Most Accessible Professors” and “Everybody Plays Intramural Sports” in their annual college guide “The Best 379 Colleges.”

Other notables include: No. 3 in “Best College Library” and “Most Politically Active Students”, and No. 5 in “Best Health Services”, and No. 6 “Best Athletic Facilities.”

The new 2015 edition profiles only about 15 percent of America’s 2,500 four-year colleges and four outside the U.S.

The Princeton Review does not rank the colleges in the book academically or from 1 to 379 in any category. Instead it reports in the book 62 ranking lists of ”Top 20” colleges in various categories. The rankings are based on surveys of 130,000 students (average 343 per campus) at the colleges in the book in 2013-14 and/or the previous two school years. The survey asks students 80 questions about their school’s academics, administration, student body, and themselves.

About West Point
The U. S. Military Academy at West Point is a four-year, co-educational, federal, liberal arts college located 50 miles north of New York City. It was founded in 1802 as America's first college of engineering and continues today as one of our nation’s premier leader-development institutions, consistently ranked among top colleges in the country. Its mission remains constant—to educate, train, and inspire the Corps of Cadets so that each graduate is a commissioned leader of character committed to the values of Duty, Honor, Country and prepared for a career of professional excellence and service to the nation as an officer in the U. S. Army. For more information, go to www.westpoint.edu.
