e. Renewal of the USMA BOV Charter. The United States Military Academy Board of Visitors Charter was filed on July 16, 2014. The Charter was approved for renewal on November 16, 2014.

f. Results of the Board’s Inquiry. In accordance with the Board’s statutory mandate, it has performed its review over each specified area of inquiry and requested information from the Academy as needed to fulfill its responsibilities. The results of the Board’s inquiries and the Academy’s input in support of them are highlighted below, as well as addressed within the BoV approved minutes, briefing slides, and information papers provided in Appendices.

7. CONCLUSIONS AND RECOMMENDATIONS.

a. Principal Conclusions.

(1) The state of the United States Military Academy’s academic, military and physical programs remains excellent. In addition, West Point continues to pursue the goal that every one of its graduates is a leader of character.

The Academy continues to meet and exceed its stated mission to “educate, train, and inspire the Corps of Cadets so that each graduate is commissioned as a leader of character committed to the values of Duty, Honor, Country and prepared for a career of professional excellence and service to the nation as an officer in the United States Army.” The Board of Visitors confirms that USMA accomplishes that important mission superbly as measured by the quality of the young men and women it educates, trains and commissions. In 2014, West Point maintained its national reputation for academic excellence. The Board anticipates that the competition for an appointment and admission to West Point among high school seniors is expected to remain strong in the future and expects to increase the numbers of minorities including women, African Americans, and other minorities. The Board notes that in 2014, as further evidence of its academic standing, West Point’s college ranking among major publications includes US News and World Report second in Top Public Schools and third in Best Undergrad Engineering Program; Princeton Review first in Most Accessible Professors; and Forbes number one Public College in the Country, first in Best Value and third in Liberal Arts College.

(2) New Construction and Renovation of the Barracks at West Point remains a serious concern. Cadet barracks continue to be overcrowded, however during 2014 the groundwork was laid to begin construction on a new set of Cadet barracks and renovations on Scott Barracks was completed. Renovation of MacArthur Short began and is scheduled for completion in November of 2015. Renovations and new construction of Cadet barracks will cause overcrowding for the next year, until the new barracks is completed. Continued SRM funding for barracks renovation is the chief concern through completion in 2022.

(3) Sexual Harassment and Assault Response and Prevention (SHARP) and Cadets Against Sexual Harassment and Assault (CASH/A). The SHARP program continued to train Cadets, Staff and Faculty, and all other personnel about preventing sexual assaults and sexual harassment. A civilian Sexual Assault Response Coordinator (SARC) was hired, as well as a Victim Advocate (VA). In 2014 HQDA approved the upgrade of the USMA SARC from a GS-11 to a GS-12 and provided the permanent TDA position. The Cadet-created team, Cadets Against Sexual Harassment and Assault (CASH/A) continued to raise awareness of this issue within the Corps of Cadets. Their mission is “to inspire the Corps of Cadets in taking a proactive role in eliminating sexual harassment and assault from the military profession through service, education and dedication to a culture of bystander intervention.

(4) Character Development Strategy and Honorable Living. Character development is important as it requires living by a set of values, including West Point’s values of Duty, Honor and Country, as well as the values of the Army, including loyalty, duty, respect, selfless service, honor, integrity, and personal courage. It’s a process of teaching right from wrong, then to the internalization of those values, so they become part of a Cadet’s character so when they become officers who find themselves in potentially compromising situations, their character development training will allow them to determine what is right from what is wrong and it will emerge as ethic. Honorable living and character should be practiced not only at work, but also in day-to-day living.

b. Recommendations to the President

(1) Maintain full support and funding to continue renovations West Point’s Barracks. The Board recommends that the Administration maintain current plans to complete the building of one new barracks and provide sufficient funding to continue modernizing the remaining existing barracks in a timely manner in order to alleviate the negative impacts of failing infrastructure and overcrowding.

(2) Adequate level funding must be maintained consistent with the mission requirements. The Board recommends that absent a reduction in the Academy’s overall requirements, budget reductions that result in civilian and military personnel reductions as well as operational cuts should be made in a judicious and careful manner so as to ensure that future budget reductions do not adversely impact the curriculum, the quality of the education or the training currently afforded cadets at West Point.

BOARD OF VISITORS ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING
March 31, 2014
WEST POINT, NY

1. DESIGNATED FEDERAL OFFICER’S REMARKS. Colonel (COL) Wayne Green stated for the record that the United States Military Academy (USMA) Board of Visitors (BoV or Board) operates under the authority of US Code Title 10, Section 4355. The Board is an Advisory Board subject to the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

2. CHAIRMAN’S REMARKS. The Chairman, Congressman John Shimkus, called the meeting to order at 1341. He welcomed the Board’s newest member, Senator Kirsten Gillibrand, and said goodbye to Senator Jack Reed, who stepped down from the Board of Visitors at the end of his term in December 2013.

3. ADMINISTRATIVE ANNOUNCEMENTS. Meeting packages included the agenda, and briefing slides.

4. ROLL CALL. For the record, a quorum of the Board was present. A list of attendees, annotated to reflect members arriving late or departing early, is appended to these minutes.

5. SUPERINTENDENT’S REMARKS. LTG Robert L. Caslen, Jr., USMA Superintendent, made brief comments.

6. MR. SCHNEIDER’S REMARKS. Mr. Schneider continued in the tradition of Honorable Lamont by updating the Board on issues that are important to the Army and the Academy. Secretary McHugh and General Odierno’s number one priority is prevention of sexual harassment and assault. The Academy’s Cadets Against Sexual Harassment/Assault (CASH/A) is showing incredible promise to help ensure Soldiers ensure they are treated with respect and dignity and can trust one another. A second issue Mr. Schneider discussed is the Soldier 20-20 program that the US Army Training and Doctrine Command is currently establishing for Military Occupational Specialties (MOS), gender-neutral, scientifically based objective standards for each MOS; it has never been done before, but it is believed will help the Army move forward with gender integration in the force. Finally, Mr. Schneider touched on the drawdown of troops to perhaps as low as 440,000, with the possibility of the Army getting even smaller. A drawdown could affect the force structure of the Army, which affects the number of officers the Army has in each grade. The Army is going through the process of bringing down the number of Soldiers, NCOs, and Officers, and that will have an effect on people. The Army in all likelihood will get smaller in the next few years, so how do we attract and retain the quality and quantity of Soldiers needed, in particular the officer corps for the Army in the future?

7. BOARD BUSINESS.

a. ELECTION OF BOARD CHAIR AND VICE CHAIR: Vice Chairman Bob Archuleta nominated Congressman Shimkus to remain Chairman of the Board, MG Errol Schwartz seconded the motion. The motion carried and Congressman Shimkus was re-elected as the Chairman. Mr. Archuleta then nominated Ms. Brenda Sue Fulton to be Vice Chair. MG Schwartz seconded the motion. The motion to elect Ms. Fulton to the position of Vice Chair of the Board was voted on, and she was elected the new Vice Chair. Mr. Archuleta, the former Vice Chair and Ms. Fulton swapped seats upon the conclusion of the votes. LTG Caslen congratulated both Congressman Shimkus and Ms. Fulton.
b. OTHER BOARD BUSINESS. Congressman Shimkus proposed the date of July 19-21 for the Board’s Summer Meeting, to be held at West Point. The Senate and House are in session on those dates, but there are no votes scheduled. This date was voted upon and approved. Congressman Shimkus then spoke about the Board of Visitors Annual Report and the importance of the report as well as its timely submission.

7. USMA UPDATES. LTG Caslen, USMA Superintendent, presented updates to the Board members. The topics he included USMA’s Character Development Strategy, the Sexual Harassment and Assault Response Prevention (SHARP) and CASH/A updates, diversity admissions, academic and curriculum updates, and facility updates

LTG Caslen began his update with Character Development Strategy. Character development is important because it’s what we’re all about. As a Division Commander in Iraq, LTG Caslen was responsible for the behavior within his unit and he was alarmed by the magnitude of senior leader misconduct, including Officers, Warrant Officers, and NCOs in the grade of E8 and E9. Although most under his command obeyed the Honor Code, there were still inappropriate relationships, hostile work environments, false official statements, sexual harassment, fraternization, etc. He felt his unit was not different than other units and felt it was an issue that needed to be dealt with. He believes that a Character Development Strategy is one way to deal with this issue. Leaders at West Point are developed across four pillars – Academic, Physical, and Military, currently in place. All three are undergirded by character, a program the Academy does not currently have. The Academy has already started on Phase I of the Character Development Strategy, which is to determine what the requirements and the outputs are; once established the Academy can proceed. Much of this will begin to come into place through most of next year. Phase II begins this summer, with Phase III taking place in the Fall of 2014. By year’s end a final draft will be ready to be implemented and amended within the Corps of Cadets.

Character Development Strategy includes living honorably, which is very important as it requires the inculcation of values, the values of West Point, duty, honor, country and the values of our Army, which include loyalty, duty, respect, selfless service, honor, integrity, and personal courage. It is a process of teaching what right and wrong are, then it takes it to the internalization of those values, so they become part of your character in order to help Cadets, and when they become officers, who may find themselves in a potential compromising situation, their character development training at the Academy will allow them to stop and think about what’s right and what’s not. It will emerge as part of their ethic.

LTG Caslen then discussed SHARP and CASH/A programs at USMA and showed the Board members his priorities. First and foremost, to form a command climate that addresses and ultimately eliminates sexual harassment and assault; second to internalize the professional military ethic to live honorably; third is to build a diverse West Point team. USMA’s SHARP strategy is to align the Academy with the Army’s five lines of effort: prevention, investigation, advocacy, accountability, and assessment. The focus is prevention. Prevention means changing the culture by changing behavior and in order to change behavior you must have an open and candid dialog. The Superintendent’s responsibility is to create conditions and establish the common ground where candid dialog can occur. Further, leadership must be engaged at all levels, not just senior leadership, but also from the Dean, Commandant, TAC officers, as well as staff and faculty. An issue we face is what Cadets call being “SHARP’d.” This is Cadet slang wherein they avoid each other (male and female), on and off duty, because they fear they may say or do something that may be misinterpreted, which is not what the leadership wants either. The objective is to bring the dialogue back to the center where everybody feels value added. Being “SHARP’d” undermines the strength of the team and detracts from what is trying to be accomplished. The Institution needs to get to where it has an inclusive team where diversity becomes a strength and every person feels emotionally and physically secure while feeling they add value to the organization; it is through dialogue and conversation that behavior changes. Examples of this engaged leadership include: coaches having sessions with team captains and the officers in charge of those teams, and planning a staff ride for all NCAA captains to Gettysburg for a few days in which the objective will be to study junior leadership during the Gettysburg battle, a method to help them understand the impact of junior leadership on small groups and organizations. LTG Caslen then turned the floor over to Cadet Havana Schmidt, the Brigade CASH/A representative.

Cadet Schmidt explained the mission of the CASH/A program and that it was nested within the SHARP program. Their mission is to create a culture of bystander intervention, with the hope of eliminating sexual harassment and assault. Cadets, who received SHARP training in the Summer of 2013, were tasked with developing this program. This is a Cadet initiative, and the Cadets in the CASH/A program work closely with their Cadet company commanders. This initiative is overwhelmingly supported by LTG Caslen and BG Clarke, the Commandant of Cadets. CASH/A is being nested under Army SHARP program in order to make it more relatable for the Cadets. The program is designed to allow Cadets to take what they learn in CASH/A with them when they graduate commissioned Army Officers. Since CASH/A is Cadet designed and led, it allows the SHARP program to be adapted to be more relatable for Cadets so that they can best internalize the program and execute it in their day-to-day lives. The topics focused on in the second semester of the 2013-2014 academic year were gender stereotypes and sexual assault myths in an attempt to dispel misconceptions people have about gender relations. A case study was developed that would take a selected member of the audience to play the role of a new platoon leader and walk him or her through a sexual harassment case in a unit. The goal is to help the Cadets to choose the best course of action to address the situation, thereby establishing a culture based on standard intervention. Since April is Sexual Assault Awareness Month, CASH/A is organizing a couple events for the Corps of Cadets. The first event is the “Walk-a-Mile for Sexual Assault Awareness”. In mid-April CASH/A, in conjunction with the Naval Academy, will hold a Sexual Assault Awareness Month Service Academy Colloquium, which will include members from the Merchant Marines, Coast Guard, Navy, Air Force, and West Point. The colloquium will bring members from each institution to talk about these issues and try to come to some common solutions. Cadet Schmidt turned the floor back over to LTG Caslen.

LTG Caslen then gave a brief update about the Army Rugby Team, an issue that was discussed at the June 2013 meeting in Washington, DC. He discussed the inappropriate e-mails, inconsistent with the Army and Academy values, sent amongst team members regarding female Cadets as well as the actions taken against the Team. In a separate investigation of the Rugby Coach, the coach submitted his resignation, which was accepted. The Rugby Team Cadets that were involved in the incident were enrolled into a Respect Mentorship Program (RMP). During their enrollment in the RMP, they were not allowed to represent West Point, meaning the team could not be in operation last fall, preventing them from competing. Upon the successful completion of the RMP, in January 2014, the team was stood back up. Ms. Fulton brought some ongoing issues with two 2LTs that were involved in the Rugby Team incident and one of the victims. She then commended LTG Caslen for the change in culture that is occurring at West Point. LTG Caslen went on to discuss the lessons learned from the Rugby Team incident and the way ahead.

After a brief discussion between the Board members regarding the issues of sexual assault and harassment, character development, living honorably, social media, etc., LTG Caslen introduced Lieutenant Colonel (LTC) Donald Outing, the new Chief Diversity Officer. LTC Outing provided information on the Diversity and Inclusion office and its role in building character, leadership and diversity. Upon the conclusion of LTC Outing’s Diversity briefing to the Board members, Colonel (COL) Deborah McDonald, Director of Admissions, briefed the Board about USMA’s class composition goals. COL McDonald explained how class composition goals are comprised, the candidate recruiting process, nomination sources, and additional appointees which include African American and athlete candidates. Following a brief discussion regarding the Admissions process and diversity of recruitment, Brigadier General (BG) Timothy Trainor provided the Board with an update on USMA’s academic program. BG Trainor explained core, or required, curriculum and how it relates to a cadet and to classroom instruction. He went on to comment on the accolades USMA has received, specifically mentioning that “Business Insider” recognized West Point as the eighth best tech college, and recognized graduating Cadets who received Rhodes, Truman, and Marshall Scholarships. At the conclusion of BG Trainor’s briefing, Mr. Matt Talaber, USMA Engineer, provided a brief update on barracks construction and renovation. There is currently a nine-year plan to update USMA’s existing nine Cadet barracks to upgrade the quality of life for Cadets in the Barracks. The renovations will provide 50 more years in the barracks life cycle. Mr. Talaber also touched upon sustainment, restoration, and modernization of USMA’s facilities. Mr. Talaber also briefed the Board on where USMA gets its natural gas and electric energy, the Wastewater Treatment Plant, which has received 27 notices of violation from the State Department of Environmental Conservation within the last two years, and finally on upgrades at Camp Buckner. Finally, Mr. Talaber briefed the Board on utility privatization within the next few years.

8. REMAINING BOARD BUSINESS.

Congressman Shimkus introduced a letter, from Ms. Barbara “Charlie” Murphy, a member of the Public, in attendance at the Board of Visitors meeting, who is from Highland Falls, NY. Ms. Murphy’s letter thanking the Board and USMA’s leadership for its successful efforts to change the culture of “cadets gone wild” to a culture where the Cadets are respectful to the residents of Highland Falls. A copy of this letter is enclosed. Congressman Shimkus thanked Ms. Murphy for the letter and noted it was a good news story showing how the culture at USMA had changed.

Congressman Shimkus asked if there were any further questions or comments from Board members. Ms. McNally commented that the meeting was one of the most informative, useful, and helpful board meetings in quite some time. Mr. Morrison commended Congressman Shimkus and the other Members of Congress. Congressman Conaway commented on the amount of work that still needs to be done with regards to the barracks. Mr. Archuleta thanked LTG Caslen and his staff for a wonderful visit and meeting; he then congratulated Ms. Fulton on her election as the Vice Chair of the Board. Ms. Fulton then commended the Superintendent, Staff & Faculty and Cadet Schmidt, as well as those who presented briefings to the Board of Visitors.

Ms. Fulton brought up the topic of going back to four Board meetings annually, instead of just three. Two would be held in Washington, DC and two at West Point, NY. It was agreed upon that this point could be discussed in July and possibly voted on at that time. Mr. Morrison asked about the possibility of Board members attending meetings electronically, via teleconference or video teleconference.

Congressman Shimkus requested an information paper regarding points raised in listening sessions held with Cadets, NCOs, members of the staff and faculty, and members of the Directorate of Public Works, to include child care hours of operation (overnight hours, or off-duty hours), lack of space at the on-post gym facility, 24 hour AAFES gas station/shopette, housing issues, and the condition of Camp Buckner. The information paper, which addresses these issues, is enclosed.

9. ADJOURNMENT. There being no further comments, Congressman Shimkus adjourned the meeting at 1604. This concluded the 31 March 2014 Organizational Meeting of the USMA Board of Visitors.

SHARP Strategy

Align program with HQDA 5 lines of effort (LOEs)
- Prevention
- Investigation
- Advocacy
- Accountability
- Assessment

Change Culture
- Change culture by changing behavior
- To change behavior, open and candid dialogue must occur
- To encourage open, candid discussion, the Superintendent creates the conditions for a common ground

Engaged leadership
Re-Orienting

Far Left

• Harassing and abusive language and behavior
• Toleration for inappropriate and unprofessional conduct
• Abuse of power at all levels
• Fear of reprisal by victims

Far Right

• Fear of Being “SHARP’D”
• Avoidance of mixed gender Engagements on/off duty
• Undermines strength of team
• Detracts from mission accomplishment

Common Ground → Open/Candid Dialogue

SHARP Strategy

What Right Looks Like

• Establish an inclusive team: Diversity a strength not a weakness
• Dignity and Respect
  ➢ Every person feels “value added” to the team
  ➢ Every person feels secure both physically and emotionally
• Open and honest communication at the lowest levels

Leadership

• Senior leadership engaging at all levels and with all groups
• Clearly defined expectations and support in execution
• Leader development of cadet team captains and OIC’s
• Gettysburg Staff Ride (3-5 May 2014)
Why is this important?

• Because these are our values and what we stand for.

• Because these cadets will soon be leaders living, demonstrating and enforcing these values.

• Because every one of these cadets will soon be in charge of a mixed gender unit, where they must now set the conditions to ensure a high performing, respectful and disciplined unit.

Mission:
- To inspire the Corps of Cadets in taking a proactive role in eliminating sexual harassment and assault from the military profession through service, education, and dedication to a culture of bystander intervention.

Goals:
- Eliminate sexual harassment and assault from the Corps of Cadets
- Support and develop command climates that foster respect
- Motivate and support a culture of bystander intervention
- Provide education and resources to the Corps concerning sexual harassment and assault

Organizational Tenets:
- Command Initiative
- Nested under SHARP, tailored for cadets
- Cadet-designed, Cadet-lead

AY 14-2 Prevention Focus Points
- Feb: Gender Stereotypes & Sexual Assault Myths
- Mar: The New PL: A Case Study
- Apr: Sexual Assault Awareness Month
Rugby Team Update

Rugby Team Behavior (Department of Army IG Inquiry Analysis)

- Inappropriate “Hi-Low” Emails: Disrespectful, Condescending

- Emails distributed throughout team
  - Over three year period
  - Reported by cadet not associated with Rugby team

- Cadet leadership on team established a climate that:
  - Tolerated unprofessional behavior
  - Was inconsistent with the West Point Leader Development System (WPLDS)
  - Placed loyalty to team above loyalty to USMA values
  - Ridiculed those that did not follow
  - Glamorized the use of alcohol
  - Emphasized inclusion rather than “dignity and respect”

Actions Taken

- Unrelated inquiry resulted in coach’s resignation
- Cadets enrolled Respect Mentorship Program and can’t represent USMA until approved
- Team suspended from July 13 to Jan 14
- Cadets successfully completed mentorship programs end of 1st semester.
- Team reinstated for competition in Jan 14

Positive feedback from rugby team captains during Superintendent’s small focus group sessions

Ongoing Investigation in Army

- Two 2LT former Rugby players facing disciplinary actions for allegations made by 2LT mentioned in emails

Lessons Learned

- Sub-cultures with values contrary to USMA and Army values
- Culture of toleration and “bystander” inaction/apathy
54% of cadets and 56% of Officers in charge provided feedback

- Office of Institutional Research designed, executed, analyzed survey
- Exceptional Response Rate
- 120 teams: Competitive Sports, Academic, Religious, Support, Military, Hobby
- 93% of cadets and 78% of OICs stated that club behavior aligns with USMA and/or Army values
- 63% of cadets and 68% OICs said that conflicts with values are addressed (31%/32% no conflict)
- 59% of cadets indicated nothing would prevent them from stopping poor behavior
- 41% stated that loyalty to team, peers, and culture might prevent intervention

Reinforces toleration/bystander issue we must address

Cadets and OICs appreciate opportunity to participate in clubs

Cadets “Top Five” benefits of clubs: teamwork, warrior ethos, leadership opportunities, values, and time management

USMA Leadership recognizes value-added of clubs for character development

Command Actions

Actions to Date:

- CASH/A: Cadet Led, Brigade Executive Committee, Unit Positions
- DAIG Inquiry: SH/SA Definitions, Reporting Lines, Club Assessment

- Club Assessment: Values align, Toleration/Bystander Issue
- Nat’l Conference on Ethics in America: “Inspire Honorable Living/Trust”

- 2018 class accessions still in progress with 95% obligations / conditional obligations in place
- Increase in 2018 African American accessions a direct link to pinpointed effort by the Admissions Diversity Team and six years of early intervention outreach programs
- Smaller class sizes will limit our ability to increase diversity in a class. Title 10 governs use of Additional Appointees to bring a class to size. Currently, 45% of African Americans enter as additional appointees.

WEST POINT, NY

1. DESIGNATED FEDERAL OFFICER’S REMARKS. Colonel (COL) Wayne Green stated for the record that the United States Military Academy (USMA) Board of Visitors (BoV or Board) operates under the authority of US Code Title 10, Section 4355. The Board is an Advisory Board subject to the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

2. CHAIRMAN’S REMARKS. The Chairman, Congressman John Shimkus, called the meeting to order at 1306. He called attention to the fact that this meeting was Major General Schwartz’s last and thanked him for taking time out to serve on the board. He also announced that Mr. Ethan Epstein was appointed by the President the preceding Friday to replace General Schwartz.

3. ADMINISTRATIVE ANNOUNCEMENTS. Meeting packages included the agenda, and briefing slides, and two tri-fold handouts from Admissions titled, “Imagine Yourself at West Point” and “Leaders Start Here”.

4. ROLL CALL. For the record, a quorum of the Board was present. A list of attendees, annotated to reflect members arriving late or departing early, is appended to these minutes.

5. SUPERINTENDENT’S REMARKS. Lieutenant General (LTG) Robert L. Caslen, Jr., USMA Superintendent, made brief remarks and spoke about the agenda for the meeting.

6. MR. SCHNEIDER’S REMARKS. Mr. Schneider spoke on two key issues that the Army is facing which are the drawdown as well as Sexual Harassment and Assault Response and Prevention (SHARP). He spoke to the specific cuts that the Army as a whole is going to make and potentially make in the coming years. The current cuts are as follows: By 2017 Active Component will go from 520,000 to 450,000; Army National Guard will go from 355,000 to 335,000; Reserve Component will go from 205,000 to 195,000. The potential future cuts that will occur if the organization goes into sequestration are as follows: Active component will downsize to 420,000; Army National Guard will downsize to 315,000; Reserve component will downsize to 185,000. This is a total reduction of 200,000 soldiers and about 43,000 Army Civilians. He emphasized that an aggressive transition assistance program has been set up and that during the process of the drawdown transparency is absolutely essential.

The next topic he covered was SHARP. He emphasized that the program is the number-one priority of the Secretary of the Army and the Chief of Staff of the Army. He stated that prevention is the key to the program and that the Army is taking it very seriously. The Army has brought on Special Victim Prosecutors to help prosecute assault cases as well as Special Victim Counsels, lawyers who can give assistance to victims. There are a total of 65 Counsels in the Active component and 95 in the reserve component. He spoke of the new training for the criminal investigation command geared towards these types of crimes. Finally, he pointed out that in 79 cases where local law enforcement declined to bring cases to the courts, the Army successfully brought cases in all 79 instances. The Army is committed to prevention, investigation, accountability, advocacy, and assessment.

7. BOARD BUSINESS. Congressman Shimkus discussed the date of the Fall Board of Visitors meeting and proposed November 13, 2014. Senator Gillibrand did have an objection and the Board agreed the date will be sometime post-election. The Board of Visitors Spring meeting minutes were approved. Next Congressman Shimkus addressed the USMA Board of Visitors Charter and requested that the board review the proposed changes and send concurrence or non-concurrence with comments and recommended changes to Ms. Dede Ghostlaw by September 1, 2014.

8. OTHER BOARD BUSINESS.

a. USMA UPDATES. LTG Caslen, USMA Superintendent, presented updates to the Board members. Topics included the Sexual Harassment and Assault Response Prevention (SHARP) and Cadets Against Sexual Harassment/Assault (CASH/A) updates, demographics of the staff and faculty, key events since the last Board meeting, Class of 2018, accreditation, impacts of sequestration and the drawdown, and finally an update on the Army Cyber Institute.

LTG Caslen began his update with his new priorities as the Superintendent of USMA which are as follows: SHARP, honorable living, winning culture, diversity, leader development, relationship with New York City, and finally Beat Navy. He then moved on to his number one priority of SHARP. He discussed the dismissal of one coach and one department head for SHARP related incidents. He explained where the Army was prior to the implementation of SHARP; we suffered from a culture where far too often we tolerated “harassing and abusive language and behavior.” He explained this as the pendulum being on the far left and the Academy as well as the Army has swung to the far right in the attempt to address the issue of SHARP. This far right swing, at least within the Corps of Cadets, has created an environment in which both genders avoid each other in fear of saying something that may be misconstrued. This far right swing is also not what the institution wants. Our new focus is to bring the pendulum back to the middle. In order to do this, dialogue amongst cadets, faculty and cadets, and senior leadership and cadets was created. This has helped to ensure that all members of USMA feel that they are contributing to organization and the team. He noted that the approach is in line with the Army strategy’s five lines of effort: Prevention, Investigation, Advocacy, Accountability, and Assessment. The training that has been put in place ensures that all Cadets can understand this problem and how to help solve it. The removal of the Combat Exclusion Law means the issue applies to all leaders both male and female. No one can claim now that building cohesive mixed-gender teams is someone else’s challenge.

LTG Caslen then spoke about forums and trips that have been created with team captains as well as other cadet leadership. He discussed the advances in the CASH/A program at West Point as well as the new SHARP MIAD, which is an 80-hour military course taught by the Army on the topic of SHARP. It was at this point that Senator Gillibrand urged LTG Caslen to share the programs that have been set up at the Academy, with civilian institutions.

The group then discussed subcultures of toleration that had been created and were a source of the problem. Next covered was how the Admissions Office screens candidates for potential character issues that would point to the likelihood of committing such acts in the realm of SHARP.

After the discussion of SHARP, LTG Caslen spoke about the demographics of the Brigade Tactical Department, the Department of Physical Education, and the Department of Military Instruction. The conversation spoke to the ethnicities as well as the genders of the members of all three departments. The Board discussed how vital it is to ensure that the demographic goals are met within the organization.

LTG Caslen then turned the floor over to Colonel (COL) Debbie McDonald the Director of Admissions for USMA. COL McDonald spoke about the demographics of the Class of 2018 as well as the beginning of the Class of 2019 at USMA Preparatory School. She went on to explain the programs that are meant to recruit candidates from all ethnic/economic backgrounds. After COL McDonald, LTG Caslen turned the floor over to Dr. Jean Blair, Vice Dean, to explain the accreditation process that the Academy must go through. Dr. Blair discussed the requirement for the accreditation by the Army. Middle States and ABET are the two sources that the academic side must be accredited through. Finally, Dr. Blair highlighted the process required to attain and maintain the accreditations.

Dr. Blair was followed by COL Green, the USMA Chief of Staff. COL Green laid out the reductions in spending over the next couple years. He noted the original plans which would have dealt a major blow to the Academy’s ability to continue to operate at its current level as LTG Caslen commented on, in regards to the ‘nuclear option.’ The ‘nuclear option’ would require: Drop all four “T” companies, reduce summer training, eliminate two to three majors, eliminate more electives, increase student-to-faculty ratio, eliminate a company from the prep school and eliminate our TAC NCOS. The Chief of Staff of the Army agreed only to low-risk; so for the present we avoid these nuclear options — for now. COL Green was then followed by COL Greg Conti, the Director of the Army Cyber Institute. COL Conti explained that the Army Cyber Institute is a Secretary of the Army and Chief of Staff of the Army initiative and that they are attempting to build an interdisciplinary team to tackle the hard problems that the Army, Department of Defense, and Nation are fighting. It is a tool that is being used to build a body of knowledge and partnerships with Corporate America and other governmental and nongovernmental institutions.

Finally, LTG Caslen covered some key events that included: The Executive Steering Group, Equality Day, the completion of Scott Barracks, the New Cadet Barracks going vertical, SHARP Summit, General Odierno’s four-star conference, Parent’s Weekend, and several upcoming events in New York City.

9. REMAINING BOARD BUSINESS.

10. ADJOURNMENT. There being no further comments, Congressman Shimkus adjourned the meeting at 1517. This concluded the 21 July 2014 Summer Meeting of the USMA Board of Visitors.

2013 Assessment Findings

Strengths:
- Our academic, military, and physical programs are effective in developing leaders of character who:
  - Lead, solve complex problems, and perform physical tasks
  - Demonstrate a broad perspective when interacting with foreign cultures, and in their ability to negotiate in various situations
  - Are good problem solvers and utilize feedback to improve performance
  - Exhibit confidence to adapt and accomplish challenging tasks
- Cadet development across the Academy in the face of a challenging environment.

Areas to improve:
- Diversity, Honor and Respect.
- Management of cadet time
- Transparency
- West Point Leader Development System (WPLDS) Emphasis
- A need for a research support, management, and reporting cell
- A need for a recruit, develop, and retention strategy for military and civilian faculty
- TDA shortfalls
- Recruiting of athletes
ABET accredits over 3,300 programs at more than 680 colleges and universities in the disciplines of applied science, computing, engineering, and engineering technology.

Last accreditation visit to USMA in 2008; we have a reaccreditation visit scheduled for 28-30 September 2014.

West Point has 10 accredited engineering and computing programs (date of initial accreditation):
- Civil Engineering (1985)
- Electrical Engineering (1985)
- Engineering Management (1985)
- Mechanical Engineering (1985)
- Computer Science (1997)
- Environmental Engineering (1997)
- Systems Engineering (1997)
- Information Technology (2006)
- Nuclear Engineering (2008)
- Chemical Engineering (seeking accreditation in 2014)

Assessment of our Status:

- Best accreditation preparation in history:
  - Strong ABET expertise: Key faculty trained; several qualified Program Evaluators on faculty; we have faculty who are ABET Commissioners and members of the Board of Directors.
  - Good graduate survey responses

- Issues likely to be highlighted in the visit:
  - Prior faculty and staff cuts increased workload: future cuts avoiding faculty;
  - Conference restrictions impact faculty development: new rules have helped;
  - Civilian furlough impacted morale and some have left;
  - Overall good resourcing but the lack of deliberate and sustained laboratory equipment funding, and funding for library journal subscriptions hurts planning: we still remain healthy each year.

BOARD OF VISITORS FALL MEETING
December 3, 2014
WASHINGTON, DC

1. DESIGNATED FEDERAL OFFICER’S REMARKS. Colonel (COL) Wayne Green stated for the record that the United States Military Academy (USMA) Board of Visitors (BoV or Board) operates under the authority of US Code Title 10, Section 4355. The Board is an Advisory Board subject to the Federal Advisory Committee Act.

2. CHAIRMAN’S REMARKS. The Chairman, Congressman John Shimkus, called the meeting to order at 1330. He also announced that Mr. Ethan Epstein was appointed by the President, in July, to replace Major General Errol Schwartz.

3. ADMINISTRATIVE ANNOUNCEMENTS. Meeting packages included the agenda, and briefing slides, the renewed Charter, dated November 16, 2014 and an executive summary regarding a football recruiting incident, which occurred on January 25, 2014.

4. ROLL CALL. For the record, a quorum of the Board was present. A list of attendees, annotated to reflect members arriving late or departing early, is appended to these minutes.

5. SUPERINTENDENT’S REMARKS. Lieutenant General (LTG) Robert L. Caslen, Jr., USMA Superintendent, made brief remarks and spoke about the agenda for the meeting. LTG Caslen introduced the members of the USMA Staff that were present at the meeting, and thanked all the members of the Board for attending. He then welcomed Mr. Ethan Epstein to the USMA Board of Visitors.

6. MR. STAMILIO’S REMARKS. Mr. Stamilio, the Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Army for Manpower and Reserve Affairs for Civilian Personnel and Quality of Life, thanked the members of the Board for their service and commitment to the Board. Mr. Stamilio noted the challenges faced today at a national level which requires leaders of character, and how critical these leaders are to the future of the Nation. He stated he believes it is critical to support West Point, an institution that builds leaders of character. Further, he looked forward to hearing about the work LTG Caslen has done and on continuing to make improvements to build those leaders.

7. BOARD BUSINESS. Congressman Shimkus discussed the date of the Spring Board of Visitors meeting and proposed March 30, or April 10, 2015, at West Point, with the first choice being March 30, 2015. The Board of Visitors Summer meeting minutes were approved. COL Green then did a roll call, and determined a quorum was present.

8. OTHER BOARD BUSINESS.

   a. USMA UPDATES. LTG Caslen, USMA Superintendent, presented updates to the Board members. Topics included the a review of the Football Recruiting incident that occurred in January 2014, the Superintendent’s priorities, which include eliminating sexual harassment and assault, develop leaders so they live honorably, diversity, leader development and finally, to Beat Navy! LTG Caslen went over some key events since the last Board of Visitors meeting, including the inaugural Army Profession Symposium, hosted at West Point, by the Chief of Staff of the Army (CSA) for all two, three, and four star Generals in the Army, strategic planning off-site in New York City; the Four Star Conference, first Sexual Harassment and Assault Response Program (SHARP) summit; ABET accreditation for engineering at West Point; 29th Annual Conference on Ethics in America; Alonzo Cushing posthumously receiving the Medal of Honor for his actions in Gettysburg at the Iron Triangle on the third day in the middle of Pickett's Charge, during the American Civil War; and finally, Branch Night.

LTG Caslen then discussed, at length, an incident which occurred on January 25, 2014, during a Football Recruiting event, which made national news. LTG Caslen explained how recruiting visits are scheduled as well as what events the recruited athletes participate in. In this particular incident, on Saturday, January 25, 2014, day two of a three day recruiting visit. After a dinner, recruits and their Cadet hosts got on a bus and went 27 miles to the Palisades Mall, and went to a bowling alley where alcohol was served without checking IDs. There was no supervision such as coaches, or officer supervisors, nor was the bus trip put together with trip accountability, which was a violation of West Point rules, but had not been enforced for about three years. Since this particular trip, these rules have been put back into place. The football players, some other recruits and a couple of other cadets wound up drinking under age and some Cadets provided alcohol to the recruits. Further, female Cadets were invited to attend to show that 'there are pretty girls at West Point.' Specific National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) violations included having a police escort the bus with recruits and Cadet Hosts to go on the Palisades Parkway, which prohibits large vehicles without police escort. Second, Cadets gave away their cash to the recruits: The NCAA authorizes each Cadet Host $40.00 for incidentals for their recruit, but can't give their recruits the cash; and the third violation was a Cadet using the authorized $40.00 to purchase apparel for their recruit, which is specifically prohibited by the NCAA. The timeline of this incident and its being brought to the attention of the USMA Command Group was as follows: The incident occurred on January 25, and then between January 27-31, some Instructors heard about the incident based on Cadet discussion in their classes and those instructors notified the Officer Representative, COL Edward Naessens. COL Naessens notified the Athletic Department, Athletic Director, and Football Coach about it on the 31st of January. The Athletic Department started an investigation and more discussion takes place in the month of February and on February 24, after additional discussion, reported what the internal investigation findings were. On February 28, the Officer Representative, COL Naessens, notified the Commandant, Brigadier General John Thomson III, which was the appropriate level for adjudication of any possible misconduct or disciplinary action that might need to be taken. BG Thomson initiated an investigation based on AR15-6, and an investigating officer was appointed in mid-March. His investigation was completed in just over a month, at the end of April. After the legal reviews in mid-May, the Athletic Department began notifying the Patriot League and then the final adjudication of the 15-6 investigation takes place and is signed by the Commandant in June 2014, after the Corps of Cadets had been sent on their summer assignments. Three local General Officer letters of reprimand were handed out by LTG Caslen to COL Naessens for not immediately reporting the incident to the Athletic Director and Commandant; Lieutenant Colonel Greene, for organizing the trip without proper authorization or supervision, and COL Davis for making the "pretty girls" comments to female Cadets. In taking this action, LTG Caslen found their acts were not 'willful misconduct' but acts of neglect or inappropriate choice of words. The Cadets involved took responsibility for their actions and received various penalties, including but not limited to, punishment tours, withdrawal of privileges, reduction in rank, restriction to barracks, writing a reflective essay, etc. The NCAA acknowledged the violations. The Athletic Director gave Letters of Admonishment to the Head Coach, the Recruiting Coordinator Coach, and the Compliance Officer. All had retraining on the NCAA rules of education.
Ms. Laurie Barone, the Sexual Assault Response Coordinator for USMA briefed the Board members on the SHARP Program and the Cadets Against Sexual Harassment/Assault (CASH/A) program. She explained these programs are becoming part of the USMA Strategic Plan, and pointed out that in addition to the focus on cultural changes, prevention of sexual assault and harassment are part of the strategic plan, not only in terms of SHARP, but also in terms of dignity and respect, because USMA has to get the Cadets to understand they will be our future leaders. One of the challenges facing USMA with each incoming class is the numerous backgrounds of the Cadets. The challenge is to engage leadership and ensure cultural change among the new Cadets; not only those from all across the United States, but also foreign Cadets from very diverse backgrounds. Ms. Barone showed the Board members the "It’s On Us" campaign tee shirts, which were debuted at the Army vs. Air Force football game in November. During this game, Vice President Joe Biden sent out a tweet, on Twitter about the USMA Cadets wearing the tee shirt to "...tell the world that 'It's on Us' to stop the sexual assaults". Ms. Barone then discussed the President of the United States' report on sexual assault that would be coming out possibly within the next few months, which the Board members would like to see. Ms. Barone further discussed how the SHARP program and CASH/A are continuing works in progress, that there will never be perfection. However, in her opinion, we are winning the battle of sexual harassment and assault. She went on to discuss the CASH/A program, which is a grass roots program, and the progress the Cadets have made. The program was established two years ago and was initiated by Cadets. They help with the training of the education both internally to the Cadet Companies and to Academy leadership. Education on preventing sexual harassment and assault is taught through SCPME (Simon Center for the Professional Military Ethic (PME)), PME 2, and CASH/A representatives get together semi-annually to determine what education they would like to focus on for that semester.

NOTE Congressional Members of the USMA Board of Visitors departed in order to cast votes in the House and Senate; no quorum is present, however discussion continued but no votes by the Board were held.

Ms. Barone then gave the Board an update on West Point’s second annual SHARP summit, held on September 18-19, 2014. All of the Service Academies, including the Merchant Marine Academy and Coast Guard Academy, were there in addition to Navy and Air Force. During this summit, the "It’s on Us" campaign was introduced as well as a pledge online to help prevent sexual assault and harassment. Finally, Ms. Barone briefed the Board members on bystander intervention, which was also part of the SHARP Summit, and included a panel of survivors; three of whom were Cadet survivors of sexual assault, and one who was a bystander and urged a victim to come forward. Their stories were powerful and had an effect on all who heard them speak. Two of the key initiatives of the "It's on Us" campaign includes a healthy masculinity program, which the CASH/A team is engaging Indiana University to get some lessons earned from their program on healthy masculinity, which they’ve taken the lead on in the country; and the second is focusing on a “positive consent campaign” in which the Cadets developed a pamphlet that she passed around to the Board members, with three items being emphasized: 1) Don’t listen for “no” but hear “yes,” 2) Prior consent doesn’t equal "yes" now, and 3) Lack of "no," just because you don't hear it, doesn't mean “yes.”

The floor was handed back to LTG Caslen to discuss USMA’s strategic plan, which contains seven strategic objectives. Objective number one is to develop the Corps of Cadets as USMA is a leader development institution, including developing leaders intellectually, physically and through character. Objective number two is to inspire, to live honorably, and build trust. The third objective is to ensure leaders who graduate understand the culture within whatever environment they go into. This is important due to the significant contribution of ground forces in the last 13 years of war. The fourth objective is to develop exceptional intellectual capability. The fifth objective is to develop a culture of excellence and a culture of winning (winning honorably, not winning “at all costs”), not mediocrity. The sixth objective is leveraging diversity in fostering inclusiveness. It is very important for the Army to represent America across all demographics. The seventh and final objective is to build effective stewardship and shared governance at USMA.

BG Timothy Trainor, the Dean of the Academic Board then provided an update to the Board members on the ABET accreditation and the ongoing accreditation by the Middle States Commission on Higher Education (MSCHE). USMA gets accredited by several sources — athletic programs are accredited by the NCAA; while academic, major level and program-specific accreditation is done through different agencies; and finally USMA is accredited as an overall university. Recently, USMA went through a re-accreditation process of USMA’s Engineering and Technology majors — a total of 10 specific majors were accredited by ABET, the leading organization that accredits Engineering and Technology programs both nationally and internationally. USMA is now focusing on re-accreditation by MSCHE. While USMA is currently accredited, the process for re-accreditation is a ten year review process required to maintain accreditation for USMA (and other institutions of higher education). MSCHE’s last visit was in 2009 that led to re-accreditation in 2010. The next major effort in the re-accreditation by MSCHE is for USMA to submit a Periodic Review Report (PRR), which is due June 1, 2015 and USMA should meet this deadline. MSCHE looks at things such as strategic planning, resource allocation, and means to get renewal and focus on the institution’s level of institutional resources, how well an institution assesses what they’re doing, on an institution’s general education program and how well an institution is doing in assessing student learning. In total there is a set of 14 standards, which are encapsulated into these areas. BG Trainor fully expects USMA to be green for everything by the time the PRR is submitted in June 2015. The area most in need of updating was in terms of USMA’s strategic planning, which is why LTG Caslen emphasized the Strategic Plan to Board members earlier. The PRR is signed off by the Secretary of the Army, so USMA will submit a draft of the PRR in February 2015 to the Director of the Army Staff for review prior to the final version being signed in April by the Secretary of the Army. Some comments, from observations from one of the 12 evaluators that came to USMA in September 2014 include, “Best programs they’ve seen” and that “USMA is in good shape in its Engineering Technology approach,” and USMA expects no issues going forward with the PRR submission in June 2015.

LTC Timothy Viles, attending the meeting for COL Deborah McDonald, Director of Admissions, provided the Board with an Admissions update and snapshot of the incoming Class of 2019. Currently, three demographics look stronger than last year: Women, African Americans and Hispanics. The Class of 2018 was a record year for admission of both Women and African Americans. The targeted class size for 2019 is 1,232, emphasizing on talent and diversity. There was then some discussion regarding the definition of what a “scholar” is, as well as recruiting athletes and whether Alumni could make contact with athletes, or if it would be a violation to do so. The Members were advised that should they come across an athlete they believe should be recruited, the student’s name and other contact information, including the school they attend should be provided to USMA’s Athletic Department.

COL Nick Mauldin, attending the meeting for Mr. Eugene “Boo” Corrigan, Athletic Director continued the conversation by explaining how USMA and the Directorate of Intercollegiate Athletics (ODIA) recruits athletes and informed the Board that neither they, nor Alumni, should actively try to recruit athletes, as it is a violation of NCAA rules. They should contact the Athletic Department at USMA about the student and allow USMA to recruit the athletes. The recruiting tool used by USMA, which USMA pays for, is a national-based recruiting tool done by professional scouts. Players are all ranked in the high school system in almost every sport. COL Mauldin also encouraged alumni to send in any information they may have on an athlete they believe should be recruited, but may have been overlooked, as the database used by ODIA is primarily coming from Tier One high schools in larger scale and metropolitan areas. COL Mauldin used, as an example, USMA’s Football program has three permanent recruiters – that is all they do – they receive leads from various sources and do the research on whether or not the athlete will make a quality Cadet Candidate.

NOTE Two Members of Congress returned to the meeting, and a quorum was present.

BG John Thomson III, the Commandant of Cadets briefed the Board members about Branching, which is when Firsties, or Senior Cadets learn what Branch of the Army they will be going into. The process USMA uses is a talent based branching model and is in its third year. This year, 1,016 Cadets in the Class of 2015 participated. 24 Cadets did not participate as they will be going to Medical School after graduation. 15 of these Cadets have already been accepted to Medical School and seven Cadets are cross-commissioning into another branch of the Armed Services. While many Cadets received their first choice for Branching, several did not, for various reasons. BG Thomson recounted a Cadet whose first choice was Infantry, however he had not done well on his Army Physical Fitness Test (APFT) and Infantry’s number one criteria is to be physically fit. This Cadet’s second choice was Signal Corps, and he is a Computer Engineering major. The branch, Signal Corps, was very interested in him, and this Cadet’s second choice was Signal Corps, so it worked out well in this particular Cadet’s branching. The Branching Board is a voting board, and the Commandant is the President. The four other voting members include a representative from HQ Department of the Army G-1 (Personnel), and three other Colonels. The Commandant and four Colonels go through the Board for two weeks. 80 percent of the Class of 2015 Cadets received their number one choice, while 96 percent received one of their top five choices. This year there were 17 branches, because the Army added a Cyber Branch. Women are now eligible to go into 15 of the Branches, as Infantry is not open to them. Upon graduation, 15 Cadets will directly commission into Cyber Branch. One requirement USMA had to meet was 70 percent of the class had to branch in the Combat Arms, which is the five branches of Infantry, Armor, Field Artillery, Aviation, and Air Defense, as well as the Engineer Branch, which is consistent across the Army for Lieutenants. The rule used for Combat Arms branching was 80 percent were men and 20 percent were women. Of the 166 women that USMA branched, 78 of them are going into Combat Arms. In January, 2015, the Secretary of the Army will make a decision about doing a Ranger assessment in April, and have women in Ranger School. Across the Army, 31 women have been selected to serve as mentors and advisors; they’ll observe and are currently going through the training. Currently there are 13 women graduates from USMA, between the graduating class of 2004 and 2014; three of them are currently on the USMA Staff & Faculty. BG James Rainey was at West Point the week prior to the USMA Board of Visitors meeting. Although he didn’t graduate from USMA, he is the Commandant of the Infantry School and gave a session about Ranger School that was open to the entire Corps of Cadets. BG Thomson provided an update to adopting a Branch Assignment process. While USMA can’t get ahead of the Department of the Army, it is likely that by August or September 2015, a decision will be made to open up Infantry and Armor to women.

COL Landy Dunham, Commander of the US Army Garrison-West Point, gave an infrastructure update at West Point. He started with the military construction (MILCON) projects. He briefed the Board on the Cadet Barracks construction and renovation and the Waste Water Treatment Plant, which are part of the FY16 special consideration. COL Dunham also briefed the members about the FY18 insert for the Multipurpose Academic Center, as well as the decision to remove Camp Buckner from the MILCON project list. The next topic was the Cadet Barracks upgrade program. Scott Barracks has been completed, and renovation was started on MacArthur Short a little late due to a protest of the contract award, which took an additional 90 days to resolve. MacArthur Long will be the next renovation and is scheduled to begin on/around August 2015. The new Cadet Barracks construction is on schedule, and is approximately 21 percent complete. The building is now going vertical; it will be energy efficient with triple-pane windows and LED (light emitting diode) lights. The Waste Water Treatment Plant construction was discussed next, and currently there is 70 million dollars in funding in the FY17 MILCON Program for its renovation. The current Waste Water Treatment Plant was built in 1954. The new Plant will cut down on pollution and the fees and violations associated with that pollution, and will be safer for the employees who will work there. CCL Dunham then went on to the electricity grid challenge. The current system has no redundancy and USMA continues to stress the current system, so there is a need for redundancy. USMA received advice and are working a partnership between the Huntsville Engineer, the Newark District Corps of Engineers, together with the Orange and Rockland Utility Company. Finally, COL Dunham provided an update to Phase Two of the Academic Science Center project. Phase Two Alpha is complete, and Phase Two Bravo is on schedule, with about 80 percent complete. The expected completion date is April 29, 2015.

Ms. Brenda Sue Fulton, Vice Chair of the Board of Visitors, briefed the Board about her visit to a meeting of the US Air Force Academy Board of Visitors meeting in October 2014. Her goal in attending this meeting was to make recommendations on improving the USMA BoV's operation to be more effective and efficient. The first observation was that the USAFA BoV has more discussion with fewer slides and meet in a much smaller venue than the USMA BoV normally does. The USAFA BoV has standing topics and a standard structure of meetings. The Chair of the USAFA BoV manages a spreadsheet and issues a tracker that tracks old and new issues to fruition. She mentioned that the USAFA BoV meets quarterly and have regularly has a portion of the meeting closed to the public where the USAFA Academy Superintendent briefs specific disciplinary issues. FI 36-3502 (Air Force Instruction 36-3502, Performance Measurement Program for United States Air Force Academy) prescribes metrics for the Air Force Academy. Other Service Academies do not have a similar instruction or regulation, but have certain metrics they pull from those metrics to present to the Board. Some metrics Ms. Fulton wished to discuss could help meetings go more smoothly and make it a little easier for the Superintendent's staff. The biggest question of interest, of her observations over the past couple of years is, "Is the Academy fulfilling its mission to deliver a diverse group of capable, honorable, motivated junior officers to the US Army?" What is the value the Academy offers to the country above delivering honorable Second Lieutenants to the Army? She also spoke about a center for excellence for leadership and cyber warfare as well as the concept of honorable living. Ms. Fulton then discussed a proposed battle rhythm for the Board of Visitors, which recognized that it is difficult for Members of Congress, during an election cycle in even years to come to West Point between September and November. She suggested going back to four meetings per year, as opposed to the current three meetings per year-in even years (two at West Point and one in Washington, DC and in odd years, one in West Point and two at Washington, DC). The first quarterly meeting to be held in Washington, DC; the Summer, or second quarterly meeting held at West Point; a third quarterly, or Fall meeting held at West Point; and the final meeting held in December, at Washington, DC. The first meeting would be the organizational meeting, the next two meetings would be to observe Cadet Summer Training and Academics, respectively, and the final meeting to tie up loose ends and discuss the Annual Report. She discussed metrics the Board could review including the academic curriculum, branch reporting, diversity, admissions metrics including applications and attrition, education and training, honor cases, sexual harassment and assault, etc., to name a few. Ms. Fulton then proposed to work with the Superintendent and his staff to create a tracker that can be used in between meetings that capture recommendations from the Board. This was the first of five recommendations, and a Board member requested to hear the other four recommendations. The second was to schedule four meetings in 2015 rather than three, and then look at a subset that would be to have the first meeting in Washington, DC and the next two at West Point; the third, which she asked for the Superintendent’s opinion on, is whether it’s important for the Board to have a briefing on disciplinary issues during a closed session; fourth would be on the metrics; and fifth would be putting on the future agenda the questions of how the Board addresses the value of USMA to the country and how the Board should assess or support those ideas. The members of the Board discussed Ms. Fulton’s recommendations and requested input from the Superintendent prior to making any decisions on the recommendations before the Board. The Board members debated Ms. Fulton’s recommendations at length and then recommended that two dates for the next two meetings be proposed at the next meeting, in March. The motion was seconded and approved.

Congressman Shimkus provided the closing remarks to the Board of Visitors meeting by announcing that he had been honored to be Chair of the USMA Board of Visitors in 2014, however he had decided he would likely not return to the Board of Visitors. He stated he appreciated what the Academy does for the Nation and looked forward to assisting the Academy if asked to do so, and finally, entertained a motion to adjourn. The motioned was seconded and was unanimously passed.

9. REMAINING BOARD BUSINESS. None.

10. ADJOURNMENT. There being no further comments, Congressman Shimkus adjourned the meeting at 1645. This concluded the 3 December 2014 Fall Meeting of the USMA Board of Visitors.

USMA MISSION

To educate, train, and inspire the Corps of Cadets so that each graduate is a commissioned leader of character committed to the values of Duty, Honor, Country and prepared for a career of professional excellence and service to the Nation as an officer in the United States Army.
Within an Army in transition, West Point is the preeminent leader development and academic institution whose graduates thrive in tomorrow’s complex security environments, and are inspired to a lifetime of service to our Army and the Nation.

Branching Update

BG John C. Thomson, III
Commandant of Cadets

Step 1:
Branches specify their unique talent priorities

Example:
Infantry Talent Priorities
1. Physically Fit
2. Problem Solver
3. Innovative
4. Multi-tasker
5. Mentally Tough
6. Tactile / Kinesthetic

Step 2:
Cadets learn about the branches and their own talent strengths

Branch Education and Mentorship
USMA employs a 4-year program to enhance cadet understanding of the branches and their own talent strengths.

Step 3:
Determine cadet talent strengths and best fit branches

Talent Assessments
The Academy and cadets determine talent strengths and best fit branches by integrating multiple assessments:
• COMPASS Assessments "Talent Tests"
• Cadet File Assessments
• Tactical Officer Assessments

Branch Scores

End State: Align Cadet Talents with Branch Talent Priorities to Meet the Needs of the Army

Step 4:
Cadets select and are assigned best fit branches

Branch Assignment Process
Cadets initially branched via the traditional Order of Merit method, and then a board assesses the results and makes adjustments to better meet Branch Talent Priorities. Final branching solution is approved by DA G1.

Transition to the Talent-Based Approach

BRADSO: Cadets receive branch of choice in exchange for a 3-year service obligation.
• Cadet satisfaction remained high and consistent with historical norms:

• Racial and gender diversity continues to improve in the combat arms under the new talent-based branching program

• USMA is setting conditions to facilitate assignment of female graduates into previously excluded combat positions
  – Working closely with the Army regarding its development of branch-qualifying gender-neutral physical tests
  – USMA Dept of Physical Education is providing physical training advice to those women interested in participating in a potential Ranger School assessment.
  – Posturing to provide training programs to enable success on the physical tests and within the newly opened positions
  – Ready to adapt branch assignment process to accommodate the policy change

Observations of USAFA BoV and
Proposed Future BoV Format

Ms. Sue Fulton
Observations from USAFA visit

- USAFA Board has more discussion and fewer slides. Smaller room enables freer discussion.
- Standing topics and standard structure make meetings more efficient.
- Chair manages an “Issues Tracker” that identifies old and new issues, and whether/how they are resolved.
- The Board meeting includes a regularly scheduled session to brief disciplinary issues – closed due to privacy laws. This allows members to have full information and avoid being “blindsided” by incidents that reach the press.
- Staff use select performance metrics from AFI 36-3502 to report on areas of interest.

Go-forward Recommendations

First, we need to agree overall areas of Board interest:

- Is USMA fulfilling its mission to deliver a diverse group of capable, honorable, motivated junior officers to the US Army?

- Other missions/value that USMA offers:
  - NEEDS DEFINITION. Possible topic of Board discussion.
    - Center of Excellence in leadership?
      - Warfighting? Honorable living? Cyber warfare?
  - How can BOV contribute to developing, understanding, and communicating the value of USMA to the nation?

(c) If a member of the Board dies or resigns, a successor shall be designated for the unexpired portion of the term by the official who designated the member.
